

DOCTOR WHO
RADIO TIMES
SNAKEDANCE

ORIGINAL BROADCAST – 18-26 January 1983

A jolly good chap

BBC1 It's a far cry from the desert for Jonathon Morris, whom you recently saw being sandily stoic as the brother of Beau Geste, in the new four-part story for Doctor Who (Tuesday 6.50 pm). Here he is 'an apprentice scientist from another planet, quite a hero, but living 3,000 years away from P. C. Wren's characters'.

The time-switch he found quite tricky: 'Ordinary standards of speech and behaviour don't apply, and the language is stranger and more limited'.

You'll soon be seeing Jonathon in another, more contemporary, scientific context - in a series with Hywel Bennett called The Consultant. He's involved with computers in this one. Has he ever played a villain? He ruminated, and came up with one stage appearance.
